MEETS THIEF FACE TO FACE

Sorrell Moore, Jumps Out of Bed to go to Fire and Finds Robber in Room.

GOT AWAY WITH FIFTY CENTS

Burglar Attempts to Enter Worster Home But is Frightened Away.

On top of the nine burglaries in the northwestern part of the city last Monday night comes the report that two more homes in Rushville have been entered in the last two nights. Last night late a burglar had all but broken into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Worster at 630 West Third street, when he was frightened away and barely escaped being shot. The night previous a burglar broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sorrell Moore, at 619 North Morgan street and escaped with fifty cents after a tussle with Mr. Moore.

James Worster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Worster was awakened late last night by a noise in the back part of the house. He awakened his father, who went to examine and found that a man was attempting to enter the house through a back window. Mr. Worster searched for his shotgun, intending to fill the robber with shot, but could not remember where he had left it. When he struck a match to find the gun, the burglar saw the light and fled across toward the L. E. & W. depot. Mr. Worster did not give chase.

Early Thursday morning, Sorrell Moore was awakened by the fire bell and jumped up with the intention of going to the fire. He leaped out of bed onto the floor and came face to face with a thief. It so happened that the robber had the very thing which Moore wanted—his pants. It also happened that the robber was just in the act of searching the pockets, when Moore took a part in the procedure.

A fight began, each attempting to gain control of the pants. They wrestled about over the room, until the burglar finally managed to escape through the window by which he had entered, but he did not get the pants. He got that for which he was searching, fifty cents in the pants pocket. Moore did not run after him. He later found that the thief had overlooked a ten dollar bill, secreted in the house.

GLYDE EARLY IS INTERNE

Announced Local Young Man is Honored by Appointment.

It has been announced here that Clyde Early, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fank Early of 958 West Third street, has been appointed an interne in one of the Indianapolis hospitals. Mr. Early is a senior in the Indiana College of Medicine this year and will graduate in June. He did not seek the appointment, an honor, to which practically every senior in school aspired to, but it was proffered him without any solicitation on his part. The appointment is considered as the stamp of good scholarship and gives to the medical student much valuable practical experience.

THE WEATHER

Rain tonight and Sunday. Probably turning to snow. Colder.

FOUND BLAZE IN KITCHEN

Whitehead Restaurant Scene of Excitement This Morning.

Another serious fire was narrowly averted this morning about eight o'clock when the kitchen of the Whitehead restaurant was found to be in flames. The fire was caused from an overheated oven. When found, the kitchen was full of smoke. Small damage resulted as only a few boards were burned. Next to the kitchen on the west side is the store room of G. P. McCarty. In there were several barrels of oil and paint. Only a thin partition separates the two and it would have been a question of time until the blaze would have burned through, doing a large amount of damage.

AWAIT BROTHER'S ARRIVAL THERE

Muncie Police Still Hold John Linville Former Rush County Man, Who Acts Strangely.

MAY BE SENT TO THE ASYLUM

Adrian Linville of Gwynneville, brother of John Linville, who is held by the police of Muncie and believed to be insane, left here yesterday evening with the purpose of determining whether it would be necessary to again take out papers to have his brother admitted to the insane asylum at Richmond, from which he escaped four years ago. He then planned to go on to Muncie to care for his brother. The Muncie Press says:

John Linville, a Muncie citizen who was arrested Thursday morning on South Walnut street, is being held in jail until word is received from a brother, who lives in Shelby county. For some time the officers have been noticing his strange actions, but it was not until Thursday that his condition became such that they were forced to place him in jail for safe keeping. Just as soon as word is received from the brother it is thought an insanity inquest will be held and without Linville is greatly improved he will probably be sent to the State institution for the insane at Richmond, where he will be cared for.

PROMINENT FARMER DIES

Anderson Wortman, 74 Years, Expires at Home of His Daughter.

The funeral services of Anderson Wortman, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Spellman in this county Thursday evening, were held at the Gwynneville U. B. church this morning at ten o'clock. He was 74 years old and enjoyed good health all his life until six weeks ago, when he was stricken with paralysis, which eventually caused his death. Shortly before that he disposed of all of his possessions in Shelby county and came to the home of his daughter to live. Besides Mrs. Spellman, he is survived by one son and five daughters, two of this county, Mrs. Minnie Sullivan and Mrs. Lucy Dyer.

MAY LOSE EYESIGHT.

It is reported that Fred Baer of Cincinnati, who was painfully injured, when a piece of rivet struck him in the eye, while employed at the city water, light and power plant Thursday evening, will probably lose the sight of his eye. He was taken to Cincinnati immediately after the accident.

SAYS CHARGE HAD NO FOUNDATION

G. G. Bennett Returns From Charleston, W. Va., With Accusations Against Officials There.

SAYS THEY WANTED THE MONEY

Charges Affidavit Was Made in Justice of Peace Court—Coup For "Shake-Down."

George Gordon Bennett, arrested here last Sunday for the alleged theft of $529 and who was taken back to Charleston, West Virginia, leaving here Wednesday evening, to answer to the charge, arrived here this morning from Charleston a free man and asserting that the charge was "faked" and was nothing more than a "shake-down." He declares that the real officials of Charleston would have nothing to do with the charge, and that Strader, the man who was here and the one who is alleged to have lost the $529 had to resort to a little out-of-the-way justice of the peace court, to have the charge made. He says that the official, who was here, was nothing more than a deputy-constable, framed up by the justice of the peace and who never wore a badge in his life.

Bennett is full of epithets which he applies to the officials of Rushville and Charleston. He asserts that he found the money on the floor of Strader's gaming house, and, not knowing to whom it belonged, took it. He openly declared that Strader was a crook and ran a wide-open house in Charleston where he declares there are eleven licensed gaming houses. Bennett says that he does not care about the Charleston end, but he regretted very much that he was arrested here, when the charge was purely a faked one.

The local man declares that Strader did not care whether or not he even got him into court, but that all he wanted was his money. He avers that he paid Strader $300 here and that the Charleston man agreed to call the deal square at that. But to satisfy the alleged "fly" constable, he must at least start for Charleston.

Bennett says that the official had requisition papers, but even at that, he did not have to go back to Charleston. He declares that the constable gave him opportunity to "dig" several times and at Cincinnati allowed him to get one block away, while he was in a barber shop. The local man alleges that the official even told him once that he could "set" sail if he desired, that he would square the charge at Charleston.

Bennett says that he will have letters and papers here from Charleston in a few days to prove his assertions. He declares that he has asked several prominent politicians to write a letter of explanation here so that he may be cleared.

It is easier to be divorced than married in Switzerland.

PLAYING FOR KEEPS.

Just as sure as the weather changes with the passing of time, so changes the kind of amusement indulged in by the small boy. Just now it's marbles for "keeps" and in every section of the city can be seen games in full swing. "Vent-dubbs," "knuckle down tight," and other expressions that are familiar to the older boys are heard and carry them back to their youth and school days.

RUSH COUNTY STILL IN RACE

All Local Representatives Were on Floor at District Spelling Bee Late This Afternoon.

II WERE IN LAST DIVISION

And Three of That Number Were From Rush—One from Other Counties.

At four o'clock this afternoon, Rush county's three delegates, Nellie Woods, Gladys Tittsworth and Freda Hiner, had survived all but the last gruelling contest at the district bee in Connersville, when eleven remained on the floor and expected to remain there until they misspelled a word. It was expected that the contest would not be decided before six o'clock this evening. Local people were enthusiastic and believed that at least one Rushville delegate would finish with the best three.

The same plan as was used in the county bee, was used this afternoon. The twenty-four delegates first stood on the floor and spelled through a list of words, only twelve surviving. In the written contest, only one failed and eleven remained to battle for honors in the last effort.

The counties represented by the last eleven delegates were Rush, Fayette, Wayne, Decatur, Henry, Union and Hancock.

A crowd of loyal Rush county supporters, about forty in number went to Connersville this morning on the 11:20 car over the I. & C. traction line. They were all enthusiastic and believed that Rush county would win at least one of the three coveted places. The three best spellers at the bee will represent the Sixth district at the State bee in Indianapolis, when the three best spellers in the State will be chosen. All of the delegates and alternates went this morning, with the exception of Marie Pitts of Ripley township.

A loyal crowd of Decatur county people, sixty strong, passed through here this morning at eleven o'clock on an I. & C. special car on their way to Connersville to attend the bee. They were cheering for their representatives.

Every county in the district was represented at the bee today with the exception of Shelby county, where no interest has been taken in the affair.

The regular contestants and their alternates are as follows:

Rush—Freda Hiner, Nellie Woods, Gladys Tittsworth; alternates, Marion Sparks, Marie Pitts.

Fayette—Gladys Kibby, Hazel Murphy, Eldon Trasler; alternates, Maide Chrisman, Carl Philabbaum.

Wayne—Gladys Harris, Olinda Linderman, Edith Stevenson; alternate, Flora Parks.

Decatur—Loretta Meyer, Vera Alexander, Ethel Wolfe; alternates, Audery West, Alma Wabman and Helen Newhouse.

Henry—Levin Lizenberger, Ruth Davis, Mary Willis; alternates, Gordon Showalter.

Franklin—Valley Cornelius, Clifford Roberts, Ruth McCarty.

Union—Mary Will, Helen Higgins, Mildred Wilson; alternates, Virgil Kaufman, Lloyd Stevens.

Hancock—Naomi Frank, Marguerite Bingham, Ellen Fuqua.

There will be no preaching services at the Primitive Baptist church in North Morgan street tonight. Elder J. R. Wilson, of Indianapolis will preach there Monday night.

Tapped eight feet from the ground, a rubber tree fifteen inches in diameter yields three pints of sap.

HAS SIGNED FEATURE STORY

Charles Tevis Will Have Balloon Story in New York Herald.

Charles V. Tevis, son of the Rev. V. W. Tevis, who has been in various newspaper enterprises since his graduation from DePauw University, is now in New York doing magazine and feature work. He will have a signed story in the New York Herald next Sunday, relating the incidents of a balloon trip which he made recently. Mr. Tevis was until a few years ago employed as Sunday editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer. He also has been interested in writing moving picture scenarios and the advancement of the business.

MAY BE ATTEMPT TO DISCIPLINE GRAY

Democrats Declare Plan to Redistrict State and Make This District Republican, is Plan.

AFTER BOTTLED PARTY CAUCUS

Finly Gray, representative-elect in Congress from the Sixth district, and mayor of Connersville, from which position he expects to retire next Tuesday evening, is "up in arms" over the proposed redistricting of the Sixth to include Marion county and all of Hendricks county. Mr. Gray and his brother, George Gray, judge of the Fayette circuit court, went to Indianapolis last night and created a regular furor, according to dispatches, by declaring that the district will be 10,000 Republican if the change is made. He proposes to fight the change to the bitter end.

Democratic leaders who are interested in the proposed congressional reapportionment admit that the proposed change in the Sixth district will make the district heavily Republican, but they say that Mr. Gray might as well be "the goat" since he has declined to stand by the Democratic caucus in Washington or to be "regular" on party principles.

The proposed change is believed by some to be nothing more than an attempt to discipline Mr. Gray.

FAMILY TROUBLES END IN DIVORCE

Judge Blair Grants L. S. Pickard a Legal Separation From His Wife.

WILL BRING CHILDREN HERE

L. S. Pickard, who has been in the limelight quite frequently because of numerous family quarrels, was granted a divorce this morning by Judge Blair. In the evidence introduced it was shown that Mrs. Pickard had many gentlemen callers, whom she said had come to see Mr. Pickard. Pickard said he thought it strange that these men should run from the house every time they saw him coming if they had come to see him. Pickard's children are now in the Spiceland Orphans home and it is understood that they will be brought back to this city.

Mrs. Julianna Fronaphel, one of the prominent residents of Cambridge City is dead at her home after an illness of many months. Three children survive.

TELLS COURT OF SERIES OF THEFTS

Vance Deery, Accused of New Palestine Bank Robbery, Recites Incidents in Pal's Life.

ACCOUNTS FOR 5 ROBBERIES

Declares Martin Opens Safe Through Sense of Hearing—Tells of Knightstown Burglary.

Through a statement made to the detective department by Vance Deery, Cordia Martin of Greenfield, Ind., and Dan Williams of Cleveland, are implicated in the recent robbery of the New Palestine (Ind.) bank and also are said to have co-operated with Deery in five "jobs" in the State, last year, according to an Indianapolis dispatch of this afternoon. Martin is now on trial in the criminal court for the bank robbery.

The first of the series of robberies, according to Deery's confession, was in Greenfield, when he said, the three planned to rob the interurban station. Martin, Williams and Deery went to the station in the night, but were frightened away by the night watchman.

Later in the evening he and Martin returned to the station, where they are said to have gained an entrance by forcing a window. Martin, he said used giant powder to open the safe, but nothing was found.

The second robbery took place a short time later at the Star store in Greenfield. Here, Deery said they took six suit cases filled with clothes and carried them to Martin's home, where they divided the loot.

The next robbery was in Greenfield, when the Lee C. Thayer department store was entered. Here Deery accuses Martin of picking the locks. All three are said to have entered the place. Williams is said to have become frightened while in the store and to have left, although he shared in the plunder because he knew about the robbery.

Martin, according to Deery, worked on the combination of the safe without any light and finally succeeded in getting it open by listening to the tumblers drop. Sixty-seven dollars in money was stolen.

The operations were then changed to Knightstown, where one of the furniture stores was entered and $97 stolen. Here a window was broken to gain entrance to the place and Martin, Deery alleges, again opened the safe by working the combination. The same night a poolroom was entered in Knightstown by kicking in a rear door, and some tobacco, candy and a small amount of change was stolen. Martin, Williams and Deery were together in these two jobs, according to Deery.

FAIR DIRECTORS MEET

Hear Secretary King's Report on Circuit Meeting at North Vernon.

The directors of the Rush County Fair Association met in the court house assembly room this afternoon to hear Secretary Will King's report on the fair circuit meeting at North Vernon on Thursday. Heretofore the directors have appointed the superintendents of the various departments, but it has been decided that the executive committee shall do that work. They planned to make the appointments this afternoon after the directors' meeting. Changes in the race program are planned.

OBITUARY.

Hiram B. Ward was born in Canadice, Ontario county, New York, July, 6, 1830.

He with his parents moved to Venango county, Pennsylvania in 1873. He came to Indiana in 1856. He was married to Mrs. Mary Hary McVey, October 27, 1861, and lived in New Palestine, Ind., until 1868 when he moved to the farm where he lived until his death.

He united with the M. E. church at New Palestine when a young man and later became a member of the Ebenezer M. E. church at Gowdy.

Mr. Ward had been ill since Dec. 1, 1910. On Feb. 4th he suffered a stroke of paralysis and passed away February 9, 1911.

He leaves a wife, one step-son, Joseph McVey of Kokomo, one son Charles Ward, four daughters.

Mrs. Orril Montanye, Mrs. Elmer Hungerford, Mrs. Oliver Wagoner and Luedith Ward, one sister Miss Mary Ward, ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. Ward took a deep interest in his church and was a consistent member to the close of his life.

He was kind and hospitable and had many friends who will greatly miss him.

The funeral was held at the Gowdy M. E. church on Feb. 12, 1911, under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. of Homer and Encampment and Daughters of Rebecca of Blue Ridge. Interment was made in East Hill cemetery.

Pneumonia Follows a Cold.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says: "It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured me." No opiates, just reliable household medicine. For sale by F. B. Johnson & Co.

Gladness comes with a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed and assisted by the pleasant laxative remedy Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

AMUSEMENTS

In the production of "The Bohemian Girl," which the Messrs. Aborn bring to the Shubert Murat theater, in Indianapolis, for five days commencing Tuesday, February 21, theatergoers are offered what is probably the most elaborate staging of Balfe's masterpiece that has been made in this country. In order to make this production in every particular a crowning event, the Messrs. Aborn have carefully culled not only their own organizations, but from other grand opera companies the suitable talent, every artist having been selected with a view to his or her fitness for the different roles, resulting in an unusual grand opera complement of soloists, chorus, augmented orchestra, corps de ballet and special performers, enlisting the services of upwards of 150 people.

Edward P. Temple, erstwhile stage manager of the New York Hippodrome, has full charge of the staging of the opera, and many striking features which he has introduced into the detail of the five great realistic stage pictures are all clearly suggested in the original book and score of the opera, but this is the first time an effort has been made to develop and amplify them. In the incidental detail there is introduced a cavalcade of horses, bands of real gypsies and whirlwind acrobats.

Former Convict Uses Knife.

Washington, Ind., Feb. 18.—John Sturgeon, a well digger, was stabbed and seriously wounded by John Arnett, a former convict, in a fight that occurred at the home of Arnett's mother, with whom Sturgeon lodged. Sturgeon will probably recover. Arnett was arrested.

Corrupt Practices Bill Passed.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—The corrupt practices bill, introduced by Senator Traylor, which regulates all campaign contributions and which provides publicity for all campaign expenditures, was passed in the senate by a vote of 29 to 16.

Danville Votes It Down.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 18.—The commission form of government was defeated here by a vote of 930 for to 2,054 against. There are 7,200 voters registered.

Discouraged

The expression occurs so many times in letters from sick women, "I was completely discouraged." And there is always good reason for the discouragement. Years of pain and suffering. Doctor after doctor tried in vain. Medicines doing no lasting good. It is no wonder that the woman feels discouraged.

Thousands of these weak and sick women have found health and courage regained as the result of the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It establishes regularity, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures weakness.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG AND SICK WOMEN WELL.

Refuse substitutes offered by unscrupulous druggists for this reliable remedy.

Sick women are invited to consult by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Pres't, Buffalo, N. Y.

REMOVES DANDRUFF

Puts Life Into Faded Hair and Stops Scalp Itch.

If your hair is dull and lifeless, is falling out and getting thin on top, then you need Parisian Sage, and the quicker you get it, the sooner you will thank F. B. Johnson & Co. for selling you such a worthy dependable hair grower, dandruff cure and hair dressing.

Read what Mrs. M. A. May of 107 East Elizabeth street, Detroit, Mich., writes on June 6, 1910.

"I have used many 'hair restorers' but have received no apparent benefit until I tried Parisian Sage. My hair is soft and silky, and while before I commenced using the remedy my hair was falling fast, was dry and harsh, faded, and altogether unlovely, now just within the past few weeks several have remarked how lovely my hair was. It is also fine just for a dressing, leaving the hair soft and fluffy. It removes dandruff, and cures itching scalp. I certainly take pleasure in recommending Parisian Sage."

Parisian Sage is sold by F. B. Johnson & Co., and druggists everywhere. Get a 50 cent bottle today, use it for two weeks and if you are not satisfied that it will do all that it is advertised to do you can have your money back. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

LOCAL HORSEMEN ARE INCLUDED

Rushville and Rush County Farmers Are Given Favorable Mention in Western Horseman.

PUBLISHED SOUVENIER ISSUE

Admiral Red, Recently Purchased by William Dagler, Is Praised Very Highly.

Last week the Western Horseman published a souvenir number of their paper, which is done annually. In the beautifully arranged issue is a liberal supply of pictures, including all of the best horses of the day. Rushville and Rush county have always been famed as a fast horse center and comes in for its share of the mention in the write-ups of local horsemen. The following has to do with men who have and will train here:

The Indiana trainer, Dick Wilson, who is training at the Pleasanton, Cal., track, believes that he has discovered a sensational colt trotter in a youngster by Toddington, son of Todd, 2:14 3/4, and out of Ecstacy, 2:10 3/4.

Dr. J. W. Reed, of Portland, Ind., recently purchased from Frank Lindsay of Rushville the highly bred and high class sire, Allertell, 2:18 3/4, and he will be in the stud the coming season at Portland. Allertell is one of the best of the sons of the mighty Allerton, 2:09 1/4, the world's leading sire of standard performers, having 216 to his credit, his dam being by the $105,000 Axtell, 2:12, which held the world's stallion record when but three years old. His second dam is the great brood mare Cypress, 2:22 1/2, by Strathmore 408; third dam a producing daughter of Belmont 64.

The fastest living son of the great Red Wilkes 1749, is that good race horse, Admiral Red, 2:09 1/4, recently purchased by William Dagler, of Rushville, Ind. This stallion was raced on the Pennsylvania and West Virginia half-mile tracks last season, where he was practically invincible, winning race after race and taking a record of 2:13 1/4 over a two-lap track. He was then taken to Columbus and at the Grand Circuit meeting there won a heat in 2:09 1/4 very handily and the Big Ring followers figured him a much faster horse than his record indicates.

Mr. Dagler, having sold Blackline, was casting about for another stallion to take the place of the son of Moko, and his attention was called to Admiral Red. He immediately made a trip over into Pennsylvania and when he returned he brought the son of Red Wilkes with him. This horse is probably the only son of Red Wilkes which was raced last season and is also the fastest of the sire's living sons, the dead Ralph Wilkes, 2:06 3/4, being the only one to have a faster record.

Admiral Red has breeding as well as speed to recommend him, for, in addition to having been sired by Red Wilkes, he is out of the great brood mare, Tiny Tun, also dam of Huntley, 2:27 1/4, by Victor Bismark 326; second dam Tunica, by John Morgan.

We Recommend Sexine Pills.

It makes no difference what is the cause of one's weakness. If it be a tonic that is needed, Sexine Pills will do more than any other tonic. They are the one tonic that strikes at the bottom of all weakness, the nerve centers. They send new vitality bounding through the body, producing a glow and tingle that revive the languid energies of youth. Sexine Pills begin by bringing quiet repose to fluttering nerves, and inducing restful and refreshing sleep. Price $1 a box; six boxes $5, with full guarantee. Address or call Hargrove & Mullin, druggists, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.

North Vernon has had a sad experience in subsidizing factories. A company proposed to locate in that city providing $10,000 worth of stock was subscribed. In a short time the amount was raised, and now that most of the stock has been paid in, the company has no further use for the citizens of North Vernon and have asked that a receiver be appointed for the plant.

The correct definition of saving is something kept from being expended or lost; that which is saved or laid up. The Rushville National Bank is a safe and sound institution and offers you a safe place to deposit your savings. We pay three per cent compound interest on time certificates of deposit; interest compounded semi-annually.

Our savings department is under the careful and efficient management of Miss Anna L. Bohannon. On all funds placed in this department, we pay three per cent compound interest; interest compounded semi-annually. Come in and confer with Miss Bohannon and she will explain all the details connected with this department.

In connection with our bank building, we have two nice and conveniently arranged rest rooms, provided with telephone and writing material for the transaction of all ordinary business, which we invite the public to make use of.

For the benefit of our customers and the public generally we have for rent, large and commodious steel deposit boxes in a fire-proof vault, at a rental of one dollar per year.

Come in and get acquainted and look through our new bank building. Courteous treatment guaranteed.

We solicit a share of your business.

Girls and Vaudeville Stunts.

Several confiding girls in this part of the State have had sad experiences recently by going on the five cent vaudeville stage.

The Connersville News yesterday related a case where a girl from Gallopis, Ohio, traveling with a "manager" as his wife, doing vaudeville stunts, was persuaded by her uncle who came for her, to return home.

An Indianapolis girl working in a factory, was persuaded to do vaudeville stunts, but instead of deriving any financial benefits, she was exploited by her manager, and finally landed in the reformatory.

Another case is that of the Smith girl in Indianapolis who claimed to have been assaulted on the porch of her home two weeks ago. She had just returned from a tour on the vaudeville stage, and the latest developments show that she was more than exploited by her manager.

A Rushville girl, without any particular talent, has been importuned with alluring proposals by a "manager" to do vaudeville "stunts" in the moving picture theaters and is very strongly considering the proposition notwithstanding the numerous wrecks reported in all parts of the country.

Senator Heyburn wants to popularize the Congressional Record. The first step would be to add a column on beauty hints and card party etiquette.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington is to give prizes to persons, who in their respective states, raised the large quantities of corn to the acre in 1910. In several of the States the department has been given instruction in the raising of some of the more important crops. What is called the record crop of corn was achieved by a boy of 15 residing in Columbus, S. C. He produced a little over 228 bushels to the acre. The average for the country is only about 33 bushels to the acre. Many of the department's pupils have raised more than five times that many bushels on that area.

Of all the American products of the soil, corn holds the primacy. In 1910, when all the records were broken, over 3,100,000,000 bushels were raised in this country. Corn placed in the pockets of the American farmers in that season over $1,500,000,000. This almost equals the receipts from the next two staple agricultural products, cotton and hay, combined. The corn produced in this country in 1910 would buy all the gold which was mined in the entire world in the past three years, and leave a good-sized sum to spare. As the experiments made in many states in 1909 and 1910 show, there is much room for improvement in corn growing. The country's population is increasing much faster than is the acreage of the lands on which the cereals are raised, but the improvement in the selection of seeds and of methods in production offer chances to avert famine or serious shortage. The persons who point out the way in which two or three bushels of corn or wheat can be raised where only one is raised now, deserve well of their country.

The shriveled earthnut stood before the wise legislators and flattered and flattered and flattered;

And with all the flattering and with all the prattling and with all the rattling,

A one-man's constitution will be Indiana's even if there is a tattling and a tattling and a tattling.

We pulled a little piffa from the Frankfort Crescent yesterday about the coal on a certain railroad being soft because it came from the tender. We understand that it did not get by in some spots.

You see the idea is—coal that is hauled on railroad engines must be in the tender. It's really not hard to understand. In fact it's pretty soft, we think. The coal is soft because it comes from the tender. Soft—tender—get the wheeze? Soft coal and tender tender as it were. We will furnish a diagram, drawn with charcoal, upon the receipt of ten cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, if you don't see now.

AMUSEMENTS

Tharling and Smythe will conclude a week's engagement tonight at the Vaudet theater when they will present a one-act comedy entitled "The Doctor Shop." The first film will be a Bison, "A Cowboy's Daring Rescue." It is said to be a great comedy. The second film will be a Nestor entitled "The Call of the West." A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand offers an Imp drama tonight entitled "The Empty Shell." It is a gripping, intensely dramatic and splendidly enacted story of the Canadian northwest. The arrival of the wife in the nick of time to prevent the hanging of her husband, the shot in the dark, the court room scene, all these will give the patrons the best thrill they ever had for their money. Earl Robertson will sing "Dougherty."

The Palace management will offer a big double program for its Saturday night patrons with two reels of pictures. The Pathe film contains two subjects, "The Misplaced Petticoat," a comedy, and "Dutch Kids," an instructive subject, replete with beautiful scenes and charming views. The Lubin film, "Tag Day at Silver Gulch" depicts a western story which recites the tale of a minister and his daughter, who invade a western town and the various adventures which they had while selling tags for the church. Miss Blanche Wrennick will sing a new song.

DOZEN quarts of champagne, in conjunction with an informal sitting of the president and his cabinet, led to the establishment of the navy and the appointment of Felipe Carrera as its admiral. The wine had been sent by the Mogul Banana company of New Orleans as a token of amicable relations—and certain consummated deals—between that company and the republic.

Next to the champagne the credit of the appointment belonged to Don Sabas Placido, the newly appointed minister of war.

The session had been signally tedious; the business and the wine prodigiously dry. A sudden, prankish humor of Don Sabas impelled him to the deed, spiced the grave matters of state with a whiff of agreeable playfulness.

In the order of business had come a bulletin from the department of Orilla del Mar, reporting the seizure by the custom-house officers at the coast town of Solitas of the sloop Estrella de Noche and her cargo of dry goods, patent medicine, granulated sugar and three-star brandy. Also six Martini rifles and ten thousand Havana cigars. Caught in the act of smuggling, the sloop and cargo was now, according to law, the property of the republic.

The collector of customs, in making his statement, departed from conventional forms so far as to suggest that the confiscated vessel be converted to the use of the government. The prize was the first capture to the credit of the department for ten years. It often happened that government officials required transportation from point to point along the coast, and means were usually lacking. Furthermore, the sloop could act as a coast guard to discourage the pernicious art of smuggling. The collector would also venture to name one to whom the charge of the boat could be safely entrusted—a young man, Felipe Carrera, not, be it understood one of extreme wisdom, but loyal, and the best sailor along the coast.

It was upon this hint that the minister of war executed his little piece of drollery that so enlivened the tedium of executive session.

In the constitution of this small, maritime banana republic was a forgotten section providing for the maintenance of a navy. The champagne was bubbling trickily in the veins of the mercurial statesmen. A formidable document was prepared, encrusted with chromatic seals and jaunty with fluttering ribbons, bearing the floral signatures of state, and conferring upon el Senor Don Felipe Carrera the title of Admiral of the marine fleet and force of the republic. Thus, within the space of a few minutes and the dominion of a dozen extra dry, the country rose to a place among naval powers, and Felipe Carrera became entitled to a salute of twenty-one guns whenever he should enter port.

The southern races are lacking in that particular humor that finds entertainment in natural misfortunes. Owing to this defect, they are not moved to laughter at the deformed, the feeble-minded, or the insane. Felipe Carrera was but half-witted. Therefore, the people of Solitas called him "el pobrecito loco," saying that God had sent but half of him to earth, retaining the other. A somber youth, glowering and speaking only at the rarest times, Felipe was but negatively loco. He generally refused to answer all questions when on shore. He seemed to know that he was badly handicapped on land where so many kinds of understanding are needed, but on the water few sailors whom God had entirely and carefully completed could handle a sailboat as well. He could sail a sloop five points nearer to the wind's eye than the best of them. He owned no boat, but worked among the crews of the schooners and sloops that skimmed the coast, trading, and freighting fruit out to the steamers where there was no harbor. It was through his famous boldness and skill as a sailor, as well as the pity felt for his mental imperfections that he was recommended by the collector as a suitable custodian of the captured sloop.

When the outcome of Senor Placido's little pleasantry arrived in the form of the imposing commission, the collector wondered and then smiled. He sent for Felipe, placed the document in his hands, explaining carefully to him the high honor that the government had granted him. Without a word, the newly created admiral took his commission, and departed.

The next morning he came again to the collector, and, as he passed through the village streets many were the compassionate exclamations of "pobrecito muchacho," but never a laugh or a smile.

Somewhere, Felipe had raked together a pitiful semblance of a military uniform—a pair of red trousers, a dingy blue jacket embroidered with yellow braid, and an old fatigue cap abandoned by one of the British soldiers in Belize. In the latter he had fastened the gaudy feathers of a parrot's tail. Buckled around his waist was an ancient ship's cutlass contributed by Pedro Lafitte, the barber, who proudly asserted its inheritance from his ancestor, the illustrious buccaneer.

At the admiral's heels tagged his newly shipped crew—three grinning, glossy black Caribs, bare to the waist; the sand in the streets spurting in a shower from the spring of their naked feet.

With becoming dignity, Felipe demanded his vessel of the collector. And now, a fresh honor awaited him.

The collector's wife, a thin, little, yellow woman who read novels in a ham-mock all day, had found, in an old book, an engraving of a flag purporting to be the naval flag of the republic. Perhaps it had been so designed by the founders of the nation; but, as no navy had ever been established, oblivion had claimed its flag. With her own tawny hands she had made a flag after this pattern—a red cross upon a blue and white ground. Having a little of the romance that abounded in her novels, she presented it to Felipe with the words: "Brave sailor. This flag is of your country. It you will defend with the life. Go with God."

For the next month or two the navy had its troubles. Even the admiral was perplexed to know what to do without orders, but none came. Neither did any salaries. The sloop was re-christened "El Nacional," repainted, and swung idly at anchor. When Felipe's little store of money was exhausted, he went to the collector and raised the question of finances.

"Salaries!" exclaimed the collector, with his hands raised. "Que salaries! Not one centavo have I received of my own for seven months. The pay of an admiral, do you ask? Quien sabe? Should it be less than three thousand pesos? Mira! You will see a revolution in this country very soon. A good sign of it is when they call for pesos, pesos, pesos; and pay none out."

Felipe left the collector with a look almost of content in his sombre face. A revolution would mean fighting, and then the government would need his services. It was rather humiliating to be an admiral without anything to do, and have a hungry crew begging for reales to buy plantains and bread to eat.

When he returned to where the good-natured Caribs were hopefully waiting, they sprang up and saluted, as he had taught them.

"Come, muchachos," said the admiral. "The government is poor. It has no money at present. We will earn what we need to live upon. Soon!"—his heavy eyes almost lighted up—"our help may be gladly sought for."

Thereafter El Nacional turned out with the other coast craft and freighted bananas and oranges out to the fruit steamers who could not come nearer than a mile off shore, there being no harbor at Solitas. Surely, a self-supporting navy deserves red letters in the budget of any nation!

There was a little telegraph office in Solitas whence a little telegraph line ran over the big mountains to the capital. After earning enough at freighting to keep his crew to provisions and pay for a week or two, Felipe would infest this office, looking like the chorus of an insolvent comic opera troupe besieging the manager's den. Sprawled in a favorite corner, upon the floor, in his fast decaying uniform, with his prodigious sabre distributed between his red legs, he awaited, day after day, and week after week, the long delayed orders from his government. Each day he would inquire, gravely and expectantly, for dispatches. The operator would pretend to make a search, and reply:

"Not yet, it seems, Senor el Almirante—Poco tiempo!"

At the answer the admiral would plump himself down, with a rattle, in his corner to await the infrequent click of the little instrument on the table. Outside, in the shade of the lime trees in the calle, the crew chewed sugar cane, or slumbered, well content to serve a country content with so little service.

NO ANTI-INJUNCTION LEGISLATION ACTION

Friends of Such a Measure See Last Hope Gone.

Washington, Feb. 18.—For this session anti-injunction legislation is dead. There is no possibility now of any agreement by either house on the pending bill providing for a limitation of the power of the federal courts to issue injunctions. Proponents of this legislation were hopeful that an opportunity would be offered to insert an anti-injunction clause into the Moon bill providing for a codification of the laws relating to the judiciary. This measure will not again be considered at this session, and even if it does no opportunity will be afforded to secure the adoption of an anti-injunction amendment. The administration, which has advocated legislation of this character, has abandoned hope of action at this session.

WHITE SLAVERS GIVEN A LESSON

United States Court Imposes Prison Sentences.

NEW LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL

In Deciding This Question the Federal Court at Cincinnati Disposes of a Batch of Prisoners in a Way to Startle and Dismay Hangers-On of Red Light District—Girls Lured From West Virginia.

Cincinnati, Feb. 18.—With results that startled and dismayed the hangers-on of the red light district, the first prosecutions under the government's new "white slave traffic" law were brought to a close in the United States court here. Mrs. Emma Harris was convicted on the charge of assisting in luring women from West Virginia, and was sentenced to four years in the prison at Leavenworth, Kan. The woman almost collapsed when sentence was pronounced, and she filled the courtroom with her wailings.

Bessie Green, one of the habitués of her place, was sentenced to a year in the prison for assisting in bringing in the West Virginia girls. Jacob Portney, a Chicagoan, found guilty of bringing a girl here on the promise of marriage and then placing her in an evil resort, was sentenced to four years in the Leavenworth penitentiary. Questions raised as to the constitutionality of the white slave law were all decided by the court in the affirmative. The society for the suppression of vice and other bodies assisted in the prosecution.

THIS MAY KILL IT

Senate Puts Off Resolution For Popular Election of Senators.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate gave up most of the day yesterday to the consideration of the resolution proposing a constitutional amendment for the popular election of senators. By a vote of 44 to 36 the senate, shortly before 6 o'clock, refused to adjourn, which showed that the friends of the resolution were in control of the situation, but a little later the plan of the supporters of the resolution to hold the senate in session was broken by a motion of Senator Lodge to go into executive session. This motion prevailed by a vote of 45 to 34.

After going into executive session the senate confirmed a few nominations and then adjourned until today. The action indicates the resolution is probably defeated, as today was given over to eulogies, and it is expected that the resolution will be displaced as the unfinished business next week and may not reach a vote this session.

COMBATIVE PUBLISHERS

Magazines Violently Opposed to Hitchcock's New Postage Plan.

New York, Feb. 18.—A fund which at present stands between $35,000 and $50,000 and is still growing has been subscribed to by various magazines in New York and Philadelphia for combatting legislation in congress providing for increased postage on the advertising pages of periodical literature. This money will be used in a campaign of advertising in opposition to the rider to the general appropriation bill, which hits the magazines.

Resented Order to Clear Out.

Boonville, Ind., Feb. 18.—William Davis, better known as Ginseng Bill, shot and seriously wounded Ollie Carroll, on the Hoggatt farm, near here. Carroll was overseer on Hoggatt's farm. Davis was gathering corn left by the huskers on Hoggatt's farm, and when he was ordered to get out of the field, he shot Carroll over the left eye.

SEA-GOING AIRSHIP

Navy Gets a Convincing Demonstration From Glen Curtiss.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 18.—Glen Curtiss gave the navy department another demonstration of the advantages of the aeroplane in naval conflict. He flew from his shed on the shore of the bay out to the cruiser Pennsylvania, landing in the water alongside the cruiser. His machine was hoisted on the deck of the ship. The aeroplane was put overboard again and Curtiss rose gracefully from the water, landing at his shed.

The purpose of the test was to demonstrate that an aeroplane equipped with hydroplanes does not need a special platform to land on a warship. Curtiss made the landing in the water and started again without difficulty or delay.

INSURRECTO CHIEF QUITE CONFIDENT

Madero Emboldened By Victory Over Federals.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 18.—The federals were repulsed in their first attack upon the headquarters of Francisco I. Madero, leader of the Mexican insurgents. The fight took place at Guadalupe Pass, a short distance west of Guadalupe, where Madero is stopping, and 200 federal cavalry under command of Colonel Rabago, from Juarez, 136 miles away, had to retire and send back to Juarez for reinforcements. These went out in the form of 500 infantrymen, 200 cavalrymen, 90 artillerymen and two mountain Howitzers, also several rapid-fire guns.

The Mexican insurrecto chief declares that he will not return to the United States, but is satisfied that his army is now strong enough to protect him in Mexico. He will move at once, he said, into the mountains south of the international boundary about twenty miles, and he is certain the federals can never take him. He says his soldiers will take Chihuahua while Navarro is at Juarez.

SECOND DEDICATION

Battlefield at Osawatimie Neglected, Say the Folks There.

Osawatimie, Kan., Feb. 18.—When Theodore Roosevelt came to Osawatimie last fall it was for the purpose of dedicating the John Brown battlefield, which has been made a state park. Mr. Roosevelt made a great address which has become known as the "Osawatimie speech," but he said little about John Brown.

Now there is a feeling in the town that the battlefield was not properly dedicated, and there is much talk of another service at the time of the anniversary of the battle next fall, when the dedication will be done as some people think it should be.

AVERTS DROUTH IN MINNESOTA

The President Abrogates Those Indian Treaties.

MINNEAPOLIS FEELS RELIEVED

Liquor Case Affecting Lands in Minnesota That Were Once Indian, Including a Portion of Minneapolis, Has Been Disposed of by Special Executive Message and Orders Clearing Up Old Contention.

Washington, Feb. 18.—In a special message and through the issuance of four executive orders, Mr. Taft disposed of the Minnesota liquor case that has bothered him and Secretary of the Interior Ballinger for several months. By the action of the president the "drouth" which threatened a large part of Minnesota, including a part of the city of Minneapolis, will be averted and liquor can be sold without federal interference on land that was "Indian" but which is now largely settled by white men.

Through his executive orders the president abrogated the articles of the Indian treaties which forbade the sale of liquor in the Indian country comprehended in these treaties.

In the special message the president recommends that congress enact legislation necessary to protect the Indians from the introduction of liquor into Indian country over which he exercises no authority under treaties. He recommends that in this portion of the Indian country congress provide that in such part as is not inhabited by Indians, the prohibition provision be so changed that white men may have their own laws regulating the traffic.

SPECIAL SESSION TALK

President May Call Congress Back to Put Through Reciprocity.

Washington, Feb. 18.—A special session of congress to act on the Canadian reciprocity bill now seems inevitable. President Taft has told members of the senate flatly that he will call congress back if the reciprocity bill does not come to a vote before March 4, and supporters of the measure in that body are admitting that an extraordinary session now seems practically certain.

The calling of a special session will mean a revision of the tariff initiated by the Democrats of the house. It is understood that the present plan of the house Democrats in the event of congress being called back is to revise two or three schedules of the Payne-Aldrich law, including probably the whole schedule, and then tack the reciprocity agreement to these as a rider. By this move the president, to get his reciprocity, would be obliged to accept the Democratic revision. Many Republicans, notably the standpaters, view with alarm the outlook for a special session.

A HEATED DEBATE

Canadian Parliament Much Agitated Over Reciprocity Question.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 18.—The reciprocity debate will be resumed next Monday and will be continued all the week, the prime minister and members of the cabinet reserving their speeches until after the opposition has practically exhausted its supply of anti-reciprocity oratory. The latest effort of those who profess to be alarmed by the annexation scheme, which has fallen flat here, is an advertising campaign.

Whole page advertisements calling on Sir Wilfrid Laurier to reverse his position and save Canada before it is too late appear in leading government organs. The advertisements were all placed through a Montreal agency, whose managers refuse to say who is paying for it. All the leading government organs have printed the appeal, together with a statement that it is a paid advertisement.

Crazed Woman's Awful Deed.

Kuttawa, Ky., Feb. 18.—After cutting the throat of her nine-year-old daughter, Mrs. Noble Williams severed her own jugular vein, dying almost instantly. The little girl seized two younger children and, running to the home of her grandmother, told of the tragedy. She had to hold her throat together all the time. The mother is supposed to have become suddenly insane.

Not Working For Money.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 18.—County Treasurer Wysong announced to the grand jury that the grand jury funds were exhausted and that if they continued longer in session they could not be paid. On a vote the jury members determined to "remain in session all summer, funds or no funds, if necessary." The foreman of the grand jury is Isaac Woodyard.

Bomb Explosion Still a Mystery.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 18.—Five Italians who were held in connection with the investigation of the assassination of Mrs. Joseph Vitoli, who was killed by a bomb exploded at her bedroom window, were released after they had been questioned several hours. The authorities are no nearer a solution of the mystery than in the beginning.

GREATEST MEDICINE ON EARTH

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes:—"I was all for five months with pulmonary trouble, and had the best of doctors;—I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol, and I feel that it saved my life. It is all on recommend it to be. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol, and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

We want every one in this vicinity who is troubled with chronic colds—coughs—or pulmonary troubles—to come to our store and get a bottle of Vinol.

It does not go to the seat of trouble—heal the inflammation and stop the cough—we will cheerfully return every cent paid us for it. This shows our faith—and proves that you take no chances. Do we mean it? Come and see. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

MINERS REPORTED TO BE IN REAL DISTRESS

Lack of Employment Has Caused Suffering.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—Reports from the Indiana coal fields to the headquarters of the miners' organization show there is much real distress among the miners, owing to the fact that work has been scarce during the winter. There are 10,000 miners in the state, and at no time has more than a third of them been employed, a fact due to the unusually mild weather and the consequent small demand for coal.

Arrangements are now making to give relief to many of the miners' families and to arrange so that work may be so distributed that every miner will have at least a share of it. The miners' officers say that there was never a time in the history of the state when the winter output of the mines was as small, considering the number of men usually employed.

A STIFF SENTENCE

Kentucky Negro Sent Up For Life For Stealing a Turkey.

Georgetown, Ky., Feb. 18.—For the first time in the history of Kentucky, a man has been sentenced to life servitude in the penitentiary for stealing a turkey.

Caswell McCatten, a negro, who had served time twice before for other crimes, was brought into court, charged with having stolen one turkey gobbler just before Christmas from the roost of Reuben Offutt. Owing to the high price of turkeys at the time it was ascertained that Caswell had taken a fowl which was valued at more than $10. The jury brought in a verdict of life imprisonment under the habitual criminal act.

Will Hardly Pass Senate.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate committee on interstate commerce voted six to five to report without recommendation the Scott bill, which has passed the house, forbidding dealings in contracts for future delivery of cotton, where there is no intention to deliver. It is considered very doubtful whether it can pass the senate. Advocates of the bill seek to attach it as an amendment to the agriculture appropriation bill.

Removal Notice.

I have removed my Law, Loan and Real Estate office to rooms Nos. 1 and 2 (upstairs) in the New Rushville National Bank Building at the northeast corner of Second and Main streets. WALTER E. SMITH. 290t6

Notice of Application.

To the Citizens of Rushville, in Rushville Township, Rush County, Indiana, and the Citizens of the Second Ward in the said City of Rushville, Indiana:

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, a male inhabitant of the State of Indiana, and over the age of twenty-one years, will make application at the March Term, 1911, of the Board of Commissioners of Rush County for a grant for a license to sell intoxicating liquors consisting of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in less quantity than a quart at a time, with the privilege of allowing the same to be drunk on the premises; which said premises are situated in the City of Rushville, Indiana, and in Rushville Township, Rush County, Indiana, and are more particularly described as follows:

Being the two-story brick building situated at the southwest corner of Main and First Street, in Rushville, Indiana. Said building being located on a part of lot number six (6), in the original plat of the town (now city) of Rushville, Indiana.

The room where said business is to be conducted being the front room on the ground floor facing on First Street, and being seventeen (17) feet four (4) inches wide on First Street, east and west, by forty-six (46) feet six (6) inches long north and south, with ceiling thirteen (13) feet high.

This 10th day of February, 1911.

TO THE SENATE OF LEGISLATION

Majority Members Will Get Together Tuesday Night.

THE REAPPORTIONMENT BILLS

Congressional and Legislative Apportionment Will Form the Principal Subjects of Caucus Discussion, but There Are Other Matters Pressing For Definite Understanding of Their Place on the Program.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—Next Tuesday night a joint caucus of house and senate Democrats will be held to consider congressional and legislative apportionment and other matters.

Much to the astonishment of many, the Republicans of the senate joined with the Democrats in passing unanimously the Beal-Shively employers' liability bill, a new measure which was decided on at a Democratic senate caucus. The passage of the new bill was made possible by attaching it as an amendment to the Shively bill, No. 192, after all of the latter had been stricken out after the enacting clause. As the Shively bill had already been advanced through second reading, it was possible to consider it at once on third reading. The new bill is a combination of what the Democratic caucus regarded the most desirable parts of the bills introduced by Senators Beal and Shively on the employers' liability question.

Provisions of the Bill.

The new bill provides that the burden of proving that an injured or killed employee did not use due care and diligence shall be on the defendant. No employee shall be held to have been guilty of negligence or contributory negligence "by reason of the assumption of the risk thereof in any case where the violation by the employer or his, its or their agents or employees, of any ordinance or statute enacted, or of any rule, regulation or direction made by any public officer, bureau or commission, was the cause of injury or death of such employee." In actions brought against the employer it shall not be a defense that the dangers or hazards inherent or apparent in the employment in which such injured employee was engaged contributed to the injury.

The senate committee on Judiciary B made short work of three bills concerning civil court practice. These bills, reported out of committee for indefinite postponement, were as follows: Requiring demurrers to specify in what respect the pleading demurred to is defective; amending certain civil procedure providing a judge may have discretionary power in change of venue when change from county is sought on ground of bias of residence, also providing no change of venue shall be granted from county when less than $200 is involved.

What Is the Mystery?

What is there wrong about the bill which will go down in Indiana legislative history as bill No. 105, against which there has been the most determined corporation lobby ever known in Indiana politics? Nobody has yet volunteered on the floor of either house any specific objection to it.

What is there right about it? Nobody has yet volunteered any specific defense of the bill, not even Senator Proctor, its father, who frankly admitted he could not explain its provisions. Right or wrong, the house Republicans, assisted by many Democrats, amended the bill sixty different ways and sent it back to the house committee on corporations for reconsideration. Following is the bill in full:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Indiana, that no corporation organized in any other state shall have or exercise any power, authority or privilege in this state which is not possessed by corporations of the same class organized in this state.

Sec. 2. No corporation shall have or exercise any power, authority or privilege in this state which it does not have in the state in which it is incorporated, and such corporation is hereby expressly prohibited from doing anything in this state which it might not lawfully do in the state of its incorporation.

Public Accounting Law.

Changes of important nature were made in the senate bill to amend the uniform public accounting law by the house committee on judiciary, which filed its report. The relations of the chief examiner and the two deputies are changed so that they shall have equal power, except as to membership on the board of accounts, and shall constitute the state board of examiners. The salary of the member to be designated the chief examiner was reduced from $4,000 a year to $3,500 a year, and the salaries of the deputies were left at $3,000 a year each. The state board of accounts, composed of the governor, auditor of state and the chief examiner, was preserved.

That part of the present law which provides that the reports of the examiners shall constitute prima facie evidence in suits to recover on showing made, was changed so that the reports shall not constitute such evidence, but may be filed and used as exhibits, as exhibits are filed and used in other civil suits.

EASTERN OKLAHOMA LANDS

The land of opportunity, rich soil and unexcelled climate; rainfall equal to that of Indiana. The last chance to buy good corn land cheap. Remember that land suitable for successful growing of corn is limited. You will not find it in the Northwest or in the mountain country west; and the south land will never be a corn country in a commercial way. Our lands are also suitable for all the small grains, an excellent fruit country and the Stockman's Paradise, for no where in these United States will you find conditions so favorable for the growing of good stock. We make a specialty of farm lands and have a large number of good farms located close to good towns and markets, where you have plenty of good northern farmers for neighbors, free schools, telephones, R. F. D. of mails. If interested write for further information or come and see us. Room 335 Equity Building, Muskogee, Oklahoma, a city of 30,000.

LOCALS LOSE TO RICHMOND

Drop Exciting Game of Basket Ball by the Score of Thirty to Twenty-Nine.

THE FIRST HALF NDS IN A TIE

Contest Very Fast and Full of Sensational Plays—Winner in Doubt Until Final Whistle.

In a game that was either team's until the final whistle, the local high school basket ball team was defeated last night by the Richmond high school, 30 to 29. The game was played as a curtain raiser to the Earlham-Rose Poly contest and created great interest in high school circles.

The game was well played and was close throughout. Rushville was handicapped on account of the illness of their star center, Bebout. He played throughout the entire contest but as he had been too ill for practice this week, it told in his work and as a result weakened the whole team. Cameron, the plucky forward on the local team, after making five field goals and doing sensational work was injured shortly after the second half began. He received a bad cut over the right eye and was forced to retire.

The first half ended with the score tied, both teams registering 23 points. Richmond came back strong in the second half, determined to run away from the locals. But Rushville played even better in this period than in the first, always keeping within striking distance. Both teams fought desperately during the last few remaining minutes of play and Richmond finally won out by the narrow margin of one point. The teams lined-up as follows:

Richmond—Taggart and Lawning, forwards; Barnes, center; Mayer and Sherman, guards. Rushville—Kirkpatrick, Cameron and Stevens, forwards; Bebout, center; Wilcoxen and Carroll, guards.

Field goals—Barnes 7, Taggart 4, Lawning 3, Mayer 3, Bebout 3, Kirkpatrick 3, Cameron 5, Wilcoxen.

Foul goals—Mayer, Lawning, Bebout 5. Referee, George Lawrence.

BOILER OUT OF COMMISSION

Electricity Will be Turned Off at Ten O'clock Tonight.

One of the old boilers at the city water and light plant went bad again last night and as the new ones are not yet ready to be used, it is likely that Rushville people will be without electricity until tomorrow evening. A. T. Mahin, superintendent, telephoned to Cincinnati early this morning and an expert came, who, it is believed, can keep the old boiler running until ten o'clock tonight, after which time the current will be shut off. It will take all day tomorrow to make repairs, but it is hoped that the electricity can be turned on by seven o'clock tomorrow evening in time for the church services.

Trouble.

"I had an acute attack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder, and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jack, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." New Spring Gingham

Everything points to a big gingham year. The straight skirts, the decided preference for strong color effects, the prevailing simplicity in even the costliest costumes all favor larger use of ginghams than has been known in many years. Spring 1911 patterns are prettier than ever and sufficiently varied to meet every tub fabric need and every taste.

We have anticipated this unusual demand for ginghams, to which the many cases of these goods, that have arrived during the past few weeks, attest:

The more modest stripes and checks, per yard.....10c
Beautiful plaids and plains, 26 inches wide, per yard....12½c
Exclusive Scotch Zephyrs, 32 inches wide, per yard.....15c
